

FARMINGTON NEWS

a NEW CITY PARK is coming!

In 2016 Farmington City was notified that the new West Davis Corridor was being routed through what was part of the park on the north-east corner of Glovers Lane and 1100 West. As part of the settlement with UDOT, the city procured land at approximately 570 North 1525 West. This land is about ten acres and serves two purposes: one—to replace the Glovers Lane open space as was previously mentioned,

“We have sports-focused, busily programmed parks like our Regional Park, and we have passive leisure parks where you might take your family on a picnic. This new park is of the leisure and recreation variety.”

— Mayor Brett Anderson

In addition to its practical use for stormwater detention, the new city park will have some amazing features:

a splash pad

During the winter of 2022, splash pad elements were removed from the city pool area. The old splash pad did not recycle water. It was like a giant drinking fountain—clean, treated water ran through the features, and then went straight down the drain, creating a significant water-waster.

and, two—to serve as a stormwater detention basin for the area surrounding the park. As is true of many parks in Davis County, this park will be a receptor for stormwater, and will help to prevent flooding in major rain events. Such parks are designed with that purpose in mind and are not damaged when rainwater comes.

Primarily for that reason, it has been shut off for two years. The splash pad was a popular activity for Farmington families, but the mayor and council chose to take the environmentally responsible action of shutting it down during the drought. Without spoiling the surprise, (trust us) the splash pad at the new city park will be one of the best in the area.

a ninja warrior course

Ninja warrior courses have become a popular feature in communities. A simple way to sum it up: playground equipment for adults and teenagers.

a stage

The new park will incorporate a moderately-sized stage for small concerts and performances.

even more . . .

Native, drought-tolerant landscape and orchards, complete with hammocking posts and various bench swings.

A variety of manufactured climbing and bouldering walls.

Unique and artistic teardrop, pod-like playground equipment for children.

This park is going to serve as an excellent gathering place for the community with amenities that food trucks can connect to without having to rely upon generators.

Pickleball courts will be plentiful.

An outdoor basketball court.

"Farmington is a unique community, and our residents and visitors expect to be wowed when they recreate here. This park will meet that objective."

—Councilman Roger Child

InvoiceCloud®

Exciting improvements are coming to the city's system for automatic bill pay. In September, Invoice Cloud will replace Express Bill Pay. Invoice Cloud will give residents the latest technology and ensure a secure payment experience. If you enjoy the convenience of automatic bill pay, no action is necessary at this time.

FESTIVAL DAYS

brought out the competitive spirit in local athletes, who put on a fantastic show of skill and sportsmanship. Results are sprinkled throughout the newsletter. We wish there was space to list ALL the contestants; however, we are only able to include a few of the top spots. For more complete information, go to the city website. THANK YOU to all the participants!
