

When Covid-19 vaccines became available, the Davis County Health Department took responsibility for scheduling and administering vaccinations. And they didn't just take on the task, they rocked it! Last month, the county reached a milestone. "Over 200,000 doses of Covid-19 vaccine have been administered in our county, that's a remarkable number! I'm very proud of what we've been able to accomplish as a health department. I am also very grateful and thankful to our community and county, for the trust they've installed in us throughout this entire pandemic." -Brian Hatch, Director of Health, Davis County Health Department. May 12th marked the county's 100th clinic.

Of course, Davis County residents might be a little biased, but it was hard not to notice the ease and efficiency of getting vaccinated at the Legacy Events Center drive-thru clinic. While volunteering at Legacy, Governor Spencer Cox observed, "We were so honored to volunteer at the vaccination center in Farmington. The transformation of the Legacy Event Center into a well-oiled vaccine station was impressive and I'm grateful for the way Farmington officials and Davis County Health Department rallied to the cause."

HEALTH DEPARTMENT

While appointments at Legacy are no longer required, they are encouraged. Vaccines are also being administered out in communities. You can even request a group vaccine outreach event. And the age requirement for receiving the vaccine continues to drop. If you or your child still needs to be vaccinated, keep an eye on Facebook and Twitter to see when shots will be given at a location near you, or go to the Davis County Health Department web page, daviscountyutah.gov for updated information.

As life begins to feel more like it did pre-pandemic, Farmington City gives a giant shout-out to the Davis County Health Department and their partnerships: Utah National Guard, Tanner Clinic, Davis School District, and Roseman University. Working together, we have faced our fears and accomplished great things.

FIREWORKS

To increase your home's chance of surviving a wildfire, it's wise to take precautions. The Farmington Fire Department urges you to read the following safeguards and make changes to your property and household where needed.

- Limit the amount of vegetation near the building. Trim branches that overhang your home, porch, and deck. Prune branches up 6-10 feet.
- Remove plants containing resins, oils, and waxes. Use stone instead of flammable mulch in plant beds touching your home. Keep landscape in good condition.
- Composite shingles, metal, concrete, and clay tiles offer the best protection in roofing.
- Never store flammable materials underneath decks or porches. Remove dead vegetation and debris from under decks and porches and between deck board joints.
- Use fire-resistant siding such as brick, fiber cement, plaster, or stucco, and use dual pane tempered glass windows.

- Ensure your home and neighborhood have legible and clearly marked street names and numbers.
- Develop, discuss, and practice an emergency action plan with everyone in your home. Include details for handling pets. Know two ways out of your neighborhood and have a predesignated meeting place. Always evacuate if you feel it is unsafe to stay—do not wait to receive an emergency notification if you feel threatened from the fire.
- Conduct an annual insurance policy checkup to adjust for local building costs, codes, and new renovations.
- Create or update a home inventory to help settle claims faster.

WHAT CAN / DO?

An executive order was recently issued by Governor Cox declaring a state of emergency due to drought conditions. 90% of Utah is experiencing extreme drought with extremely low moisture levels. The governor's office suggested the following water conservation tips:

fix leaks

run full loads in the dishwasher and washing machine

turn off the water while brushing teeth, shaving, soaping up, doing dishes or rinsing vegetables reduce showers by at least one minute

wait to water

plan now for the irrigation season and consider implementing water-wise landscaping or purchase a smart irrigation controller

Check out more conservation tips at weberbasin.com and slowtheflow.org.

One of my favorite songs when I was little was "It's a Beautiful Day in the Neighborhood," from Mister Rogers. I felt like he was always wanting me to be his neighbor, and I definitely wanted to take the trolley and live in his neighborhood. When the weather warms up and it's easier to be outside, this song runs through my head more often. Living in Farmington reminds me of Mister Rogers' magical neighborhood, and I have yet to walk through any part of Farmington where I'm not surrounded by something lovely or beautiful.

This year Mister Rogers' song has become more poignant. In December of 2020, Doug and I decided to throw caution to the wind and move in the middle of the pandemic and a ridiculous housing market. I'm not certain it was the best idea, but we are getting used to and loving our new home. We didn't move far, just a few houses down the street – same area, same schools, and still Farmington. But our new neighborhood is made entirely of people we didn't know before.

As I've walked around and become more acquainted with my new neighborhood, there are many lovely things to see, but it's the people who I've met as my neighbors that make it even more wonderful.

Take a minute to consider these questions: How long have you lived in Farmington? What brought you here? What do you like about your neighborhood and the city? What do you dislike? How well do you know your neighbors?

We're slowly emerging from the Covid-19 pandemic that shut us into our own little masked and isolated silos for several months. It's a beautiful sight to see so many enjoying the outdoors and other amenities found in the city. The Farmington gym is back to regular hours. The swimming pool is open and ready for summer fun. The parks are filled with human life, smiles and lots of giggles. And the expansive trails throughout the city are being enjoyed by many.

It is refreshing and wonderful to live in a community where there are many ways to find beauty and connection within our own neighborhoods and throughout the city. Festival Days in July and future events planned in the city are great ways to connect with each other.

So...how well do you know your neighbors? There are many new faces or faces we haven't seen for many months. I would encourage all of us to find ways to enjoy the beautiful days in our neighborhoods and reconnect with each other and the wonderful community we are surrounded by.

Farmington Rotary Club

INTRODUCTORY MEETING

An introductory meeting to explore creation of a satellite Rotary Club in Farmington will be held June 3rd from 11:30 am to 1:30 pm in the mezzanine of the Harmons at Station Park. All interested persons are invited to come anytime during those hours to learn more about Rotary International and how a Rotary Club could benefit our community.

John Yancey, the current president of the Centerville—Farmington Rotary Club, and other Rotarians will be there to share their Rotary experiences and answer questions.

Rotary members from the Centerville-Farmington Club have long supported the community through a range of service projects. Members have planted trees at Farmington High School and will be providing a scholarship to a Farmington High School senior this year. Farmington has grown significantly in the past 20-30 years and it is hoped that the community is now big enough to have its own Rotary Club.

QUeSTioN

TruQ or false

I am required to keep my dog on a leash at all times when not constrained in a fenced yard or in a cage.

If you said TRUE, you are correct. Failure to do so is more than just being impolite, it's breaking the law. All cities in Davis County fall under the county ordinance that stipulates compliance.

1 am responsible for the waste my pet produces while off my property.

This is also TRUE. Whether it's a dog, a horse, or some other animal, the owner is responsible to bag and dispose of any and all waste it may produce.

If I take my animal into a nature setting, such as a canyon trail, it is acceptable to throw waste into the undergrowth or bag and leave it near the trail.

FALSE. Some cities pay crews to monitor trails and remove bagged waste. Farmington does not. It is your responsibility to carry out and dispose of waste produced by your animal.
